

NATION OBSERVES ARMED FORCES DAY

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHY T.

LEGAL DEPT.: Atty Serial Thompson was telling me something the other day which is of interest—especially to our readers to the east.

But before we get excited about it—from every indication nothing would be done about it all now. It's too late. Everything's been done and most certainly wouldn't be undone.

What's happened, Mr. Thompson revealed to me, is that the Shawneetown annexation strip which was upheld by the state supreme court back in 1941, has been overruled this year.

I'd forgotten about it, but back in 1941 Mr. Thompson represented June Rowan and four or five other plaintiffs who sued to start an action in quo warranto to throw out the annexation of Old Shawneetown and New Shawneetown by the narrow strip that keeps them as one municipality.

The case went to the state supreme court and Justice Murphy wrote an opinion which said the plaintiffs did not have an original interest to permit them to pursue.

Then, a few weeks ago, in a case, People vs. Firek et al., on the organization of a sanitary district, the 1941 Shawneetown case came up.

In his opinion on Firek et al., Justice Schaffer discussed the Shawneetown opinion and overruled the court's 1941 decision.

But don't get excited. This is 14 years later.

WHILE SHAWNEETOWN is still the subject, let us say that a local house mover is busy at Old Shawneetown these days because of the bridge approach.

W. H. Huston of Harrisburg, Route 2 moved three houses at Old Shawneetown which were in the bridge approach right-of-way. Two of these were between Main and Market, the last being moved Thursday. Two of the three were set down on Main street.

Mr. Huston also will move in the near future a couple of small dwellings near New Shawneetown which are in the approach-way.

Carmi Raises Fund For Boy Paralyzed In Gym Accident

CARMI, Ill. (U.P.)—Radio station WROV will broadcast a special program Monday to raise funds for a Carmi boy paralyzed by a high school gym accident.

Voluntary contributions have raised $5,200 for a fund to provide special treatment for 18-year-old Denzil Hill. The Carmi high school senior suffered a dislocated vertebra Dec. 8 while attempting a difficult gymnastic stunt.

He has been paralyzed since then and went to the Kessler Institute in West Orange, N. J., Feb. 11 for special treatment.

The Carmi Kiwanis Club started collections for the fund to finance Hill's rehabilitation and treatment. A recent report from the institute says the boy is recuperating slowly and his treatment may be a long and costly one.

The special program scheduled Monday will present home talent from the Carmi area plus recorded music when requested by persons making pledges to the Denzil Hill fund. Special phone operators will receive calls and arrangements have been made for volunteer workers to pick up the donations.

Although members of the WROV staff have not set a definite goal for the drive, they hope they can at least match the $5,200 already collected without a special campaign.

Senate Approves Use Of Township Motor Fuel Funds for Road Repair

A bill to provide extra funds to township commissioners for the repair and maintenance of township roads, was passed in the Illinois Senate this week. It was Senate bill 479 and was sponsored by Sen. Glen O. Jones of Raleigh.

The measure provides that township highway commissioners may use up to 25 per cent of motor fuel tax funds for the repair and maintenance of roads and bridges. The motor fuel funds previously have been limited to new roads or reconstruction. This additional funds will be in addition to what the township receives in local taxes.

House Group to Study Defaults in GI Home Loans

Veterans Committee To See if Changes Needed in Program

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—House investigators, studying reports on 6,000 recent defaults on GI home loans, came up today with some findings they termed worrisome.

Among them:

1. In one area that has experienced a total of 87 defaults, the defaulting home owner in every case turned out to be somebody other than the GI to whom the government-backed loan originally was made.

2. In some of the Veterans Administration's 65 regions, recent sour loans usually have left the veteran stuck with a loss, while in others the mortgaged property almost always was sold for enough to pay off the debt.

3. In case after case, a veteran has sold his GI home, moved away, then discovered months or years later that the buyer had defaulted, and that he was left holding the bag.

4. Some vets have paid on their GI loans for years, then defaulted, and wound up with a bigger debt than they started with. Frequently the property failed to bring enough to settle the claim.

Chairman Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) of the House Veterans Committee said these and other facts developed by staff investigators will be fully explored to see whether changes are needed in the GI home loan program.

The Veterans Administration has pointed out that total defaults on GI loans have been relatively few. Of 3,768,970 loans guaranteed by VA, only 21,389 have gone sour, with a loss to the government of only $17,233,084.

Rep. Gray Asks Expansion of Vets Hospital

Congressman Kenneth J. Gray of West Frankfort, Representative of the 25th District of Illinois, today requested H. V. Higley, Administrator of the Veterans Administration, for an expansion of the Marion Veterans hospital. Gray asked for a new building program to accommodate at least an additional 100 beds. Gray said there were hundreds of sick and disabled veterans who are waiting for admittance to the hospital and he urged the Administrator to request funds from Congress for an immediate building program.

Gray said he has conferred with the Veterans Affairs Committee in the House of Representatives and the United States Senate and they indicated they would give favorable consideration to it but they state that the request must come from the Veterans Administrator as to the need.

Gray said the Marion Veterans hospital was intended to be a 500 bed hospital when it was planned and that plumbing, heating and other facilities were installed for a hospital of that size; however, when construction was begun a 150 bed hospital was built.

A domiciliary ward could be built to accommodate at least 100 additional patients. Gray said he is receiving many complaints from veterans who are unable to be admitted at the hospital. For that reason he had previously requested that the admittance practices at the hospital be investigated. This investigation is now underway. Gray said the proposed building program would help eliminate this problem.

Gray said in the event the Veterans Administrator turns down his request, he intends to call upon all veterans organizations to circulate petitions throughout the area serviced by the Marion Veterans hospital in an effort to obtain this much needed expansion.

HIGHLIGHT ENTERTAINMENT of the year for the HTHS Juniors and Seniors was the prom held Friday night at Bonnell gym. The events also included a midnight show at the Grand theatre, provided by Turner-Farrar theatres and the Harrisburg Elks club, and dancing and breakfast at the Elks club. The festivities at Bonnell gym were held in a Mardi Gras atmosphere with sophomore attendants dressed in costume, adding a gay touch to the formals of the junior and senior boys and girls. In the above group at the prom are Judy Belt and Fred Kinnaman (kneeling), and in the rear (left to right) Jim Durham, Jane Lasersohn, LaNell Gwin and Jack Wright.

AT MIDNIGHT SHOW following the prom Carl W. Rude (holding mike) and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn, right, greet John Klein and Judy Farrar at the Grand theatre where the Cinemascope film, "Black Widow," was shown to the juniors and seniors. Rude was master of ceremonies and he and Mrs. Lasersohn were members of the Elks Youth Activities committee which provided the extra entertainment following the prom.

AT ELKS BREAKFAST—Breakfast following early morning hours of dancing at the Elks club completed the prom activities for the juniors and seniors. The Elks Youth Activities committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rude, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn, Exalted Ruler Chas. Skaggs and Mrs. Skaggs, Owen Hunsinger and John Richard Small, was in charge of the entertainment following the prom. Mrs. Rude is shown in the foreground of the above picture. India Expects U.S.-China Talks Within 60 Days

Diplomat Leaves Peiping After Meeting With Chinese Leaders

NEW DELHI, India (U.P.)—High Indian sources said today direct talks between Communist China and the United States on the Far Eastern crisis were expected to take place within 60 days.

The government refused official comment, but the sources said India and Red China decided to seek a solution to the dispute within two months as result of Ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon's trip to Peiping.

Krishna Menon left Peiping for home today with Red China's answers to the questions of a Formosa cease fire and the release of American fliers jailed by the Communists.

Reliable sources said Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru had received the gist of the talks between Krishna Menon and the Red leaders and that it was likely Krishna Menon would now go to London to confer with Prime Minister Anthony Eden.

Possible U. S. Visit

Government sources said it was possible Krishna Menon would make yet another trip to Washington to expedite the Communist-American meeting. He conferred with Americans before going to Peiping.

It was still undecided whether Krishna Menon would accompany Nehru on the premier's visit to Moscow next month. India, the Soviet Union and Britain all have tried to mediate the dispute between Washington and Peiping.

Three Top Leaders

Krishna Menon, top adviser to Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and India's representative at the United Nations, was closeted much of Friday with Red China's three top leaders—Chou, Premier Mao Tse-tung and Vice Premier Chen I.

Western diplomats in Tokyo put particular emphasis on the Friday meeting because it was unusual for so many top Peiping officials to meet at the same time with a foreign envoy.

Krishna Menon made the trip to Peiping as a direct result of Chou's statement at the Bandung Conference that Red China would welcome direct talks with the United States on means of easing Far East tension and solving the Formosa question.

Four Carrier Mills Youths Injured in Truck-Auto Crash

Four youths were treated for injuries yesterday following an auto-truck crash on Route 45 at Muddy.

State Policeman Adolph Sweat reported.

The crash occurred at 2:30 p. m. during the rain yesterday. Sweat said. He said that a Gaskins Lumber Co. truck driven by Paul W. Richardson, 19, of Ozark, Ill., started a left turn into Muddy as the auto driven by Dixon was approaching. The crash resulted.

Passing motorists brought the lads to Harrisburg for treatment. Sweat estimated that damage to the Dixon car was about $800, to the truck about $75.

Their Murphy Community Unit No. 2, 450 feet south and 440 feet west of SEC NW SE, 16-8s-7e, made a well in the Waltersburg with initial production of 1,632 barrels per day on flow. Also a 1632 barrel per day producer was their Pearce Community Unit No. 1, SEC NE NW, 21-8s-7e. This well, too, came in in the Waltersburg.

Plumlee Wells
Breuer-Robison had a 931 barrel well come in from the Waltersburg at their Plumlee Consolidated No. 2, 230 feet north and 330 feet west of SEC NW SW, 15-8s-7e. Their Plumlee No. 3, SWC NW SW, 15-8s-7e, had initial production of 575 barrels per day on flow from the Waltersburg.

Latest Weapons In U. S. Arsenal Are Displayed

'Power for Peace' Theme Provided In Annual Tribute

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—More than 5-million Americans trooped to Army, Navy and Air Force bases today to see Armed Forces Day demonstrations of the latest weapons in the nation's "tremendously powerful" arsenal.

As millions witnessed parades throughout the nation celebrating the annual tribute to the services, high military officers warned that in many cases this nation's weapons hold a perilously slim margin of superiority over the Russians. Theme of the occasion was "power for peace."

Wilson Speaks
Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, keynoting Armed Forces Day in a speech Friday night, said this country's "tremendous power" is being built "in an unremitting effort to achieve world peace."

Wilson said the government will not be deterred by propaganda of enemies or wishful thinking at home or among allies from pursuing a steady buildup for an indefinite period.

More than 7,500 marched in a parade here, reviewed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Wilson and Deputy Defense Secretary Robert B. Anderson. Similar parades were scheduled for New York, Chicago, Dayton, Ohio, Baltimore and many other cities and towns.

A simulated A-bomb attack was planned in Huntington, W. Va., including evacuation of "casualties," and instructions in passive defense.

Strong Hint
In Los Angeles Friday night, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, air chief of staff, threw out a strong hint that Russia's newly revealed strides in air power may force the United States to build a bigger air force to insure its lead.

He referred to the impressive display recently over Moscow of new Russian jet bombers, supersonic fighters and all-weather planes.

In Pittsburgh, Gen. Thomas D. White, air vice chief, warned the nation not to assume that we can automatically keep a technological lead over Russia.

In Chicago, Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott said the nation's air power program is "just about right" but will be kept under "constant review" in light of Russian advances.

Display Armed Might in Europe

FRANKFURT, Germany (U.P.)—American troops today marked Armed Forces Day in Darmstadt with the biggest display of military might seen in Europe since the end of World War II.

U. S. forces showed off their latest military equipment, including atomic weapons, at 52 Army and Air Force bases in Germany. Similar goodwill shows were held in France and Britain but on a less spectacular scale.

A parade of 2,000 U. S. soldiers with huge atomic cannon and atomic rockets in Darmstadt was one of the highlights of the day. Leading the Americans was a squad of German mounted police.

It was the first time the Germans, now Western Allies, had taken part in an American Armed Forces Day celebration. German leaders sat on reviewing stands at the 19 parades staged across the nation.

In Berlin, the Soviets sent their first representative to an Armed Forces Day parade. Russian Maj. Gen. P. A. Dibrova, Berlin's Soviet commandant, sat on the reviewing stand as 4,000 American troops marched past at Tempelhof airfield.

Mother Runs Through Plate Glass Window After Daughter's Death

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (U.P.)—A distraught mother ran through a plate glass window today, moments after she was told of the death of her tiny daughter in an automobile accident.

The accident victim was Teri Lynne McMillen, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMillen. Officials said the girl and her seven-year-old brother were sitting in their parents' car while the elder McMillen shopped. They became tired of waiting and walked across the street.

Teri was struck by a car as it was backed out of a driveway by Melvin Westbrook, 25.

When Mrs. McMillen, 31, was told of the accident, she ran through a plate glass window to the street. She was treated for cuts on her face and arms.

HERD OF SHEEP AT THE DIXON SPRINGS EXPERIMENT FARM, numbering about 150 ewes and 180 lambs. This herd of sheep was shown recently to a group of newspaper, radio and TV representatives touring the farm. The working of the sheep dog, not visible in the picture, proved of great interest to the visitors. The dog worked both from hand signals and spoken word from the shepherd, on horseback. This is only a part of the large herd of sheep at the experiment farm. At the barns at least another 300 sheep were being used in a feeding experiment. A part of the sheep at the barns were feeding on chopped pasture feeds and others were getting grains added to the pasture feed. In an 18-day period the sheep with the grain supplement gained 10 pounds while those on only pasture feed gained three pounds. However, the experiment wasn't completed and it wasn't known if the increase in weight would be sufficient to make grain feeding profitable, considering the cost of the grains. (A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in Southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.)

Planting Corn

Corn planting got under way at
the Dixon Springs Experiment Station the first week in May and will probably continue throughout most of the month, as about 400 acres are to be planted. Most of the corn will be used for silage, and the acreage will include some sor-ghums. Orange fodder sorghum has been used and will be used again. It is a variety that combines good grain yield with high forage yield.

Recount on the Big Haub

Some weeks ago we estimated that about 1,000 tons of manure would be hauled and spread on the Station this spring. Well, that estimate was too low by 25 percent. Instead, 1,325 tons were spread. The fertilizer replacement value of this manure is about $3,000.

Recount on Tetra Pektus Rye

Tetra Pektus rye has not yielded so well as Balbo in forage variety tests. Three yield samplings from the same plot taken about 3 weeks apart to simulate three grazings showed that Balbo yielded 5,500 pounds of dry matter, while Tetra yielded only 3,800 pounds. Tetra
may still be used to supplement Balbo and lengthen the rye grazing season, as it remains productive for a longer time. It is much later in jointing.

New Dixon Springs Circular

A new circular No. 740, "Keeping Southern Illinois Pastures Productive," is now available. It should be helpful in planning for and getting greater profits from pasture land. It points out the advantages of planned pastures and of periodic renovation.

In Clover
About the first of May, ewes and lambs were moving from grass pastures—mainly fescue—onto Ladino clover and other legumes for rapid finish for an early June market.
They don't know it, but they are eating themselves to a rapid death.
The lambs weigh about 60 pounds,
and Jack Lewis, assistant superintendent, expects them to gain at least 2-3 pound per head a day.

Corn Hybrids Getting Better All the Time

How good are today's corn hybrids?

That's an important question to corn growers in Illinois, which now leads all other states in producing hybrid seed corn. For the past five years, Illinois has also led in per-acre corn yields.

Best way to answer the question,
according to R. W. Jugenheimer, University of Illinois corn breeder, is to compare today's corn hybrids with those of 25 years ago.

By 1934, Jugenheimer reports,
less than ten percent of Illinois farmers were using hybrids. Between 1925 and 1934 corn yields for open-pollinated varieties averaged just under 34 bushels an acre, and it was only the best farmers who could make 50.

Open-pollinated varieties did not respond as well as hybrids to fertilizer, the scientist says. They usually didn't stand well enough to be harvested with mechanical pickers. They couldn't resist drought, disease and insects.

In the ten years after 1934, Illinois corn growers changed to hybrids. Yields during this period averaged 45 bushels an acre, about a third more than for the open-pollinated varieties. Hybrids responded to fertilizer and to thicker planting. They could fight drought and other hazards, and they stood until the picker got there.

Today's hybrids are better still,
Jugenheimer says. In the past 10 years, average yields have increased another eight bushels to almost 53 bushels an acre, 19 bushels above the open-pollinated average.
Another mark of the change is that most hybrids of 10 years ago can't meet the competition of today. Only 13 of the 147 hybrids certified in 1944 were certified again in 1954. The rest have been replaced by better ones.

The extra 19 bushels on each of the nine million corn acres in Illinois give the state an additional 171 million bushels of corn a year.
This increase in per-acre yields has freed several million acres of good land for soybeans.

Jugenheimer points out that corn
is one grain of which we have no heavy surplus. Since 1949 we have used as much corn as we have produced. And we've never had a surplus of soybeans—the crop grown on the freed acres.

In spite of this progress we're still not even in the race with population growth. It's going to take even better hybrids in the future, and Jugenheimer thinks we'll have them. "We've made more progress in agriculture during the past 30 years than was made in the 4,000 years before then," he says.

BUTTER LUCK NEXT TIME—Freckled Robert Maslin, 12, was disqualified when he tried to enter his bullfrog in the butter churning contest at the third annual Butter
Day Celebration in Mansfield, Mo.
Robert wanted to drop the frog into the bucket of cream and let the croaker churn it by kicking around. Might have worked, too, but the judges thought the boy
should do the churning himself.

Breed Good Beef Heifers to Calve at 2 Years

Breeding good, growthy beef heifers as yearlings to calve at about two years of age means an extra calf in the lifetime of the cow.

R. J. Webb, superintendent of
the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the University of Illinois, says studies started in 1943 and completed this spring show that it is practical to breed beef heifers
to calve as two-year-olds.

About 100 heifers started this study, Webb says. Half of them were first bred as yearlings and the other half as two-year-olds.
Cows in each group have been kept through 10 years of age.

The group bred as yearlings have weaned an average of six calves each, original heifer, while the group bred as two-year-olds have weaned an average of five calves.

Yearling-bred cows have weaned
2,265 pounds of calf, on the average, for each original heifer in the group, compared with 1,913 pounds of calf for the other group. Weaning weight for each calf averaged 403 pounds for those bred as two-year-olds compared with 380
pounds for the yearling-bred cows.

At the end of the test, 56 percent of the cows bred as yearling heifers were still on hand, while 47 percent of those bred as two-year-olds remained. There was no significant difference in the mature cow weights in either group.

However, Webb points out a few precautions to keep in mind. Heifers bred as yearlings should be growthy and in good condition.
You should have facilities to give the cow and calf reasonable care

at calving time.

Good pastures during the first calving year keep the young, growing heifer and calf both putting on normal growth. Breed first-calf heifers to a bull that you know sires calves of average birth weight.

LIMESTONE BEST FERTILIZER

Limestone is the best fertilizer
to use for soybeans on acid soil.
At Brownstown, limestone alone increased bean yields 6 bushels an acre. Nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, without lime, increased them only 3 bushels. The combination of lime, phosphorus and potassium raised yields 12 bushels
an acre.

If the soil test shows the soil to be low in phosphorus and potassium, beans will respond to applications of fertilizers supplying those nutrients. However, if you have used these fertilizers on other crops in sufficient quantities, you need not use any more on the beans.

Soybeans are a good crop with which to start a soil improvement program. They respond well on untreated soil to such materials as lime and rock phosphate. And when these materials are applied ahead of the beans, cultivation mixes the lime and phosphorus thoroughly into the soil in such a way as to make them more readily available for small grain and legumes that follow.

State Convention of Church of God W. M. S. Held Here This Week

The 22nd annual state convention of the W. M. S. of the Church of God was held Tuesday and Wednesday at the Charleston Street First Church of God.

Guest speaker for the convention was Kosby Philip, a student at Anderson college and native of South India. The convention theme was "India—A Door Ajar," and during the Tuesday afternoon session Mr. Philip told the group of the great possibilities Christianity has in India. He told, however, of the great lack of missionaries there because too often only teachers and laborers are allowed to enter the country, adding that vocational missionaries are the only hope and that that will be his plans for the future. He is now studying agriculture in America so that he might teach better farming methods to his own people and at the same time help them find peace with God; thereby helping them both materially and spiritually.

New state officers were elected during the annual business session Tuesday afternoon, and that evening linens were contributed during a Lifen Chest March for distribution among out-going missionaries.

At the general session held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, Mr. Philip related interesting and amusing incidents encountered when he first came to America. He then took the group on a "journey" through India, telling them of the places of interest a tourist might visit there. A discussion period followed.

A Communion service was held at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday, followed by the state board meeting at 9:30. Mr. Philip again spoke, his theme centered around the Christian work now being accomplished in India. He challenged the group with the thought that Christianity is not only for a chosen country, but for the entire world, stating that it is only through our missionary work that the gospel can be spread around the world.

Mrs. Margaret Schemmer, state president, closed the meeting, urging all to attend next year's convention which will be held in the northern section of Illinois.

Father Uses Son, 12, as Shield In Gun Battle

SOMERSET, Ky. — A 12-year-old boy was in critical condition today from wounds received when his father used him as a human shield during a gun battle with deputy sheriffs.

The father, Otis Whitaker, 37, and two deputies also were wounded in the gun battle Friday. Whitaker opened fire with a 12-gauge shotgun as the deputies approached his farm house in a rugged section of Pulaski County during a search for the products of an illegal whisky still.

Whitaker grabbed his son, Otis Lee Whitaker, and used him as a shield from the deputies' fire. The boy was struck in the face by a pistol bullet.

The elder Whitaker was in fair condition with chest and stomach wounds. The wounded deputies, Claude Dalton and Raymond Meece, were hit by shotgun pellets but their condition was not serious.

Moscow Claims U.S. A-Sub is Figment Of Imagination

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio concluded today there was no such thing as an atomic powered submarine.

The U. S. Navy's submarine Nautilus which passed its test runs with flying colors is merely a figment of the imagination, the Soviet broadcast said.

But the broadcast said such a submarine would be a good idea if it existed—since it could operate in winter or summer under the polar icecap.

When formed, the territory of Idaho contained 10 mining towns, 20,000 people and four counties.

CBS To Televis Five Big Ten Football Games

NEW YORK (U.P.)—The Columbia Broadcasting System will televise five important Big Ten football games on a regional basis during the 1955 season, it was announced today.

CBS also revealed it has worked out a similar agreement to televise five Pacific Coast Conference games in that area and is hopeful of lining up five eastern regional games next season.

The regional games permitted under the NCAA's new football television program, will be telecast on Sept. 24, Oct. 8, Oct. 22, Nov. 5 and Nov. 12.

CBS also will present, for the second consecutive season, national telecasts of Big Ten basketball games, beginning early in December. The network plans to televise the NCAA track and field meet at Los Angeles, June 18, on a coast-to-coast hookup.

New Trier Leads in State Track Meet; New Record in Hurdles

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—New Trier of Winnetka today led the way in all three sports at the Illinois high school track, golf and tennis championships.

With one state record already set, Friday, at least four other events were in danger in today's finals.

The most talked-about event was the 180-yard hurdle race between the two Willies—William Martin of Chicago Wendel Phillips who set Friday's 19.2 record, and Willie May of Blue Island, the smooth striding pre-tournament favorite.

New Trier ended the preliminary competition Friday with these enviable results:

1. Tied with Chicago Heights Bloom for the top number of qualifiers in track, each team with four individual finalist entries and one relay team. But close behind and very much in the running for the track championship with one relay team and three individuals were Blue Island, Elmhurst York and Chicago Tilden. North Chicago and Chicago Phillips each had three individual stars in the finals.

2. Tied for the point lead in tennis with Hinsdale after completion of quarterfinals in both singles and doubles.

3. Leading in golf with a low team score of 308 and the top individual in Bernie Magnusson, who banged out a one-under par 71 in the first day's 18-hole opener.

The first two state champions for 1955 were Norman Ehlers of Mendota, who whirled the discus 161 ft. 1-10 in., just a foot shy of the state record set last year, and Daniel Smith of South Beloit, who broad jumped 22 ft. 4-7-8 in.

The broad jump and the discus throw were the only finals events.

Our sympathy is extended to the Colbert and Jackson families in their sorrow.

Friday, Dick Abner of East Peoria, defending champ in the broad jump, came in third with a leap of 21 ft. 9-1-4 in.

Preliminaries were held in all other events except the mile and half-mile runs, but these two, especially the mile, promised to be among the most exciting today.

The state high school mile record was 4:23.1 set in 1947 by Warren Druetzler of La Grange.

Two milers here today had the potential to threaten it—Jimmy Bowers of De Kalb, who ran 4:25 in the district and 4:23.4 during the season, and Ron Long of Mooseheart who had 4:25.6 in the district.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Don't be a road sign or a street sign "shopper." If you have lost your way on the highway or are in a strange neighborhood in a city trying to find a particular street, pull off the road and stop or pull over to the curb and stop. Determine just exactly where you are and then go ahead.

It is a dangerous maneuver, for both you and other drivers, to just slow down and try to read the signs, then speed up again when you have not found the one you are seeking. Your erratic speeds make you a target for other drivers, and while you are peering intently at a road or street sign trying to read it, your attention is not where it should be on the traffic situation.

In the few seconds you were not watching traffic but were still moving in it, all sorts of accident possibilities can arise. Suddenly, you discover the car in front of you has stopped, a pedestrian has started across the street or a car is turning left across your path. If you must read street signs, stop out of the traffic lane and read them; if you are going to keep driving, keep your attention on traffic.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Argentina, Brazil and Chile are known as the ABC states.

Raleigh Diamond Sunday

The Eldorado Merchants will open their home schedule Sunday, hosting the Evansville Orkies. Eldorado's home games are played on the Raleigh park diamond, across from the Raleigh school. Game time is 2:30 p. m.

Gene Williams or "Kay" Willis will hurl for Eldorado.

Legion Plays Johnston City Here Sunday

The Harrisburg Legion team will play host to Johnston City Sunday at the town park diamond. Game time will be 2:30.

Cincinnati Snaps Cards' Winning Streak as Smoky Burgess Hits Two Homers

of Kansas City turned in the best pitching performance of the night in limiting the White Sox to two hits while hurling the Athletics to a 1-0 victory.

Chico Carrasquel's third inning single and Willard Marshall's ninth inning single were the only hits off Ditmar, who registered his first victory. Kansas City scored the lone run of the game off Sandy Consuegra in the first inning on singles by Enos Slaughter and Vic Power along with Elmer Valo's sacrifice fly.

Porterfield Wins

Bob Porterfield, who couldn't beat the Red Sox all last year, won his second straight game from them by pitching Washington to a 3-1 decision. Porterfield drove in what proved to be the deciding run with a single in the second inning but was hit on the right forearm by a drive off Billy Klaus' bat and had the leave the game in the sixth. Johnny Schmitz blanked Boston from that point on. Frank Sullivan was the loser.

The Yankees moved to within a half game of the American league lead with a 7-5 triumph over the Orioles. Bob Turley notching his seventh victory although wildness forced him from the game in the sixth. Yogi Berra led the Yankees' 10-hit attack with a two-run homer and a single.

Detroit shelled Bob Lemon from the box in the third inning and went on to beat Cleveland, 11-4, as Fred Hatfield, Bob Wilson and Al Kaline drove in eight of the Tigers' runs. Reliever Al Aber was the winner.

Stars to Play at Uniontown Sunday

The Harrisburg Stars baseball club will travel to Uniontown, Ky., Sunday to play the Colored Cardinals of that city in a contest starting at 2 p. m.

The Stars will be seeking their third win of the season, having lost but one game.

Lefty Jack Nolen probably will get the starting role. Nolen was the victim of the only loss this season even though he tossed a three-hit game. Cowgour will do the receiving for the Stars. Others seeing action will be Burgett, Sheumake, Ziegler, Sisk, Smith, K. Nolen and Harrison. Don Wallace and Roy Hughes will be on hand for relief pitching if needed.

All players are asked to meet at the town park diamond by 11 a. m. to make the trip to Uniontown.

The slimmest whisker on a man's face is thicker than the heaviest hair on his scalp.

Lanky, good-looking Art Ditmar

Smoky Burgess, a pot-bellied little fellow who looks more like your neighborhood grocer than a big league catcher, is making a specialty of delivering the home run ball for the elated Cincinnati Redlegs.

The chubby, five-foot, eight-inch Burgess, whose punch more than matches his paunch, smashed a pair of homers Friday night—including one with the bases full to beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-7, and snap their five-game winning streak.

Burgess' two homers, the second of which capped a game-winning six-run rally in the eighth inning, gave him five for the season, one more than he hit last year with the Phillies, who traded him to Cincinnati three weeks ago.

All told, Burgess drove in five runs Friday night against the Cards and just to rub it in, he did it with a Stan Musial model bat. Bob Thurman and Gus Bell also homered for the Redlegs, who ran their winning streak to four games.

Phillies Not Complaining

Despite the fact Burgess is batting .306 and driving in his share of runs for Cincinnati, the Phillies aren't complaining about the deal they made with the Redlegs last April 30.

Andy Seminick, the catcher the Phils obtained to take the place of Burgess, for example, was the big gun in their 5-3 victory over the Dodgers. Seminick drove in three runs with a two-run double and a homer as Robin Roberts gained his fifth victory and the Dodgers suffered their fourth loss in a row.

The second-place Giants climbed to within 6 1/2 games of the sputtering Dodgers with an uphill 6-3 victory over the Pirates. Pinchhitter Bill Taylor snapped a 3-all tie when he drilled one of Max

THE CONQUEST OF FEAR

One of the earliest emotions a child experiences is fear. And from the first loud noise that awakens him until the moment of his death he knows no day without some recurrence of the sinister, some foreboding of danger.

From the beginning of time religion has been our tested antidote to the poison of fear. In the dark forests of antiquity, on the boiling seas of exploration, in the fox-holes of modern strife, men have calmed the body's trembling with the soul's faith. We have faced the unknown, the hostile, through trust in the Known, the Faithful; we have challenged the insurmountable, confident in the power of the Almighty.

How essential, though, that each generation passes on our Faith to the next! Who dares to deprive a child of the chance to conquer fear? Who would rob his son's soul of the Christian heritage martyrs died to preserve? Bring your children to God's House every Sunday. Seek with them FAITH for this atomic age.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a powerhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Hezekiah Attempts Reconciliation'

II Chronicles 30:1-6:13
GOLDEN TEXT: "The Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if ye return unto him." (II Chron. 30:9)

INTRODUCTION: It is most interesting to watch the scenes change in the drama of the history of Israel. When they sinned they suffered punishment. When they obeyed God, He blessed them. The same has always been true. It is true today, even with individuals.

Hezekiah is one of the great kings of Judah. He was the son of King Ahaz, one of the most wicked of all of the kings of Judah. The temple had been permitted to deteriorate to a low degree. Idol worship was the common practice, and it was urged by the king's example. He led the people to worship Baal and Astarte. Any student of history can tell you what this meant. Sin at its lowest ebb was practiced in the name of religion. Orgies of sensuality were participated in, thus bringing moral decay upon the people.

When Hezekiah came upon the throne, a great change was made. He ordered the temples cleaned and rebuilt. He set out to serve the Lord with all his might. I HE SENDS OUT INVITATION (V. 1-6)

The great Passover Feast was to be observed in the second month of that year. Hezekiah saw in this Passover Feast an opportunity to unite the two kingdoms. He sent out invitations to all Israel and Judah. The invitations read like this: "Ye children of Israel, turn again unto Jehovah, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, that he may return to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hand of the kings of Assyria."

This was not a political maneuver on the part of Hezekiah. It was his sincere desire to bring the people, of the divided kingdom, together so that they might worship God and receive his blessings.

II HE GAVE GOOD ADVICE (V. 7-9)
Hezekiah told those people of Israel and Judah not to react toward God as their fathers had done. He advised them not to "be stiffnecked, as your fathers were, but yield yourselves to Jehovah." He told them that if they would "turn again to Jehovah" that He would have compassion upon them and return to them with blessings.

Friends, this promise holds good in the day in which we live. If any individual will turn to God in Christ's Name, he will find not only forgiveness, but blessings as well.

IV A SAD RESPONSE (V. 10-11)
Hezekiah's men went from city to city with the king's invitation. Everywhere they went, "they laughed them to scorn, and mocked them."

Every personal worker has seen this same response. We have taken the King's invitation to the lost. They have laughed, and they have mocked. Many times this laughter and mocking is done to cover up a guilty conscience because of sin committed. It is a serious thing to refuse the King's invitation!

"Nevertheless certain men... humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem." My! how we do rejoice over the few who do accept the King's invitation!

CONCLUSION (V. 12-13): These verses tell of "a very great assembly" at Jerusalem. We are told that the hand of God came upon Judah during this second month celebration of the Passover. God always blesses nations, communities, and individuals who serve Him. A minority plus God equals the majority.
